Lock and Dam Cumberland River.

London, Ky., July 22, 1910.
Editor News,
Columbia, Ky.

Dear Sir:—
I desire to call your attention to the following letter of Major Wm. W. Harts, Engineer in charge of the improvement of the Cumberland River, and ask you to print same in your paper for the information of all those who are interested in the improvement of the Cumberland River in Kentucky.

"WAR DEPARTMENT ENGINEER OFFICE,
UNITED STATES ARMY CUSTOM HOUSE, NASHVILLE, TENN."

July 13, 1910.
Hon. Don C. Edwards, M. C.,
Washington, D. C.

Sir:—
The Committee on Rivers and Harbors of the House of Representatives has called for a review of the project for the Cumberland River with a view to obtaining information with regard to the worthiness of constructing Lock No. 20.

This Lock will be located in all probability some where near Belks Island about 14 miles below Lock 21, and will affect in a measure Wayne, Russell and Clinton counties, Ky. Inasmuch as they have probably been largely interested in obtaining this resolution, could you please give me early information as to the commercial value of the locality in question? This data includes statistics as to the annual output of agricultural, mineral and manufactured products.

Very Respectfully,
Wm. W. Harts,
Major, Corps of Engineers."

I desire to say that the completion of lock and dam 21 was provided for by the appropriation of $85,000.00 for that purpose at the last session of Congress, and that owing to the fact that the Government Engineers had reported adversely as to further improvement of that section of the river, I procured the passage of the resolution referred to in Major Harts' letter, and now call on all interested in this very important work to get together at once and furnish all available information. Congress expects to pass a River Bill annually and we want to procure a favorable report so that lock and dam No. 20 may be provided for in the next River Bill. No. 21 will soon be completed will give us thirty miles of slack water below Burnside and No. 20 would continue it fourteen miles further down the river and with an annual bill the river should soon be improved all the way to Nashville.

Let every friend of this improvement take quick and effective action, and the continuance of this important work will be assured.
Respect,
D. C. Edwards.

A Timely Warning.

The disease known as Pellagra, that has been scourging the Southern States, for several years, has at last reached Kentucky. There is one case at Madisonville, and one at Perryville. As the watchman upon the watch-tower of the public health, I feel it my duty to call attention of the people to this disease. Not very much is known about it. We know it kills a great many people, we know that it is very contagious, we know very little as to its cause symptoms or its treatment. It is said to be caused by eating corn-bread made from damaged or unwholesome corn. It occurs more frequently among the colored, than the white people, because the colored citizens eat more corn-bread than do the whites. It is a disease that abounds in filth; Therefore;
Clean the town, clean your premises, clean your back yards, clean your stables, clean your cellars, clean your privies, clean your schools, clean your streets, clean your allies, clean everything, everywhere.

Perryville is only one County removed from Adair, and it may strike us next. If it comes I will meet it and give you timely warning. Done by order of the Board of Health of Adair County.
U. L. Taylor, Health Officer.

The family washings at the Columbia Steam Laundry is under my supervision and I see that it is done right: The price for such work is 7 cents per pound, but must include heavy as well as light work. We can not do all light work at this price. Also washings must be 5 pounds or over.

37-3t Mrs. T. G. Rasmey.

Mr. Ray Conover is now a member of the firm of Russell & Co., having purchased a one-third interest in the stock of goods and accounts. Mr. Conover is an experienced dry goods man and no doubt will be a valuable acquisition to the business. He is a gentleman who has many friends throughout the county.

County court next Monday and a fair crowd is expected in town.

Handsome Show Window.

Mr. L. L. Eubank, with the Reed Hardware Co., who is an artistic show window dresser, has now on display a representation of millinery goods made of materials and articles kept in a hardware store. All the late style hats are on exhibition, and we doubt if there is a milliner in this town who could take her goods and make a more attractive display. The window is a drawing card, many ladies calling to see it. In the window can be found late style hats made of rope and minnow seals. The diaphan and the scoop hat is there, all shapes being represented. Those who have not called should make it convenient to see this very attractive window, dressed by a gentleman who has become an artist in his special line of work.

For Sale.

One good brood mare and colt. Apply to A. J. Gowen, Gradyville, Ky.

Dr. Ben L. Bruner, Secretary of State, will soon appoint bank examiners to inspect all the State banks and trust companies. The selections of these men will be left to a committee of five men, and politics will be disregarded in their selection, but they will be chosen for their ability and fitness for the place. Dr. Bruner says he is not going to be bothered by having people from all over the State writing letters recommending certain persons for the place. That the men he selects will be honest and well qualified for the work. Every State bank in Kentucky will be examined.

Mr. L. E. James, who has been living near Whitegrove, Texas, for the past three years, returned to his old home, near Sparksville, last Friday. He says that it is very dry in the part of Texas where he has been living, but yet the crops look fairly good. He further stated that all the former Adair county people who live near Whitegrove are doing well and are perfectly contented. He will return in a few months.

Mrs. Nannie Chelf, wife of Mr. T. J. Chelf, Roby, this county, met with a very serious accident last Thursday. She was in her yard, driving a flock of chickens when she stumbled and fell, breaking one of her ankles. A physician was called and reduced the fracture, but it will be several weeks before the patient recovers.

Mr. J. F. Shaw, who is a very intelligent traveling salesman out of Nashville, and who is a very popular gentleman in this section of Kentucky, will please accept our thanks for a very handsomely bound book, "Character or the Making of the Man," by Edward F. Carmack, who was Tennessee's greatest statesman. It is a lecture delivered by the lamented gentleman before a body of young men attending an institution of learning.

The camp meeting at Acton, Taylor county, will commence Friday, August 12th, and conclude on the 21st. Rev. J. B. Kendall, of Wilmore, Ky., and Miss Gertrude Spangler, of Georgetown, will conduct the services. The bookkeeper and assistant cashier for the past several years has resigned, and John C. Phillips has been bookkeeper for G. M. Hendrick for the past few years has succeeded him. Mr. Hill has been a splendid official and will be greatly missed. Mr. Phillips, who succeeds him, is an experienced banker, bookkeeper, having served for some years as bookkeeper in a Chattanooga Tennessee bank—Monticello Outlook.

A letter from Indianapolis, Ind., is making complaint because Cane Valley is not weekly represented in The News. We desire to state that we have made every effort to publish a letter from that point every issue, but it seems a matter of impossibility to get a person to send in the news. Cane Valley is the second town in the county in point of population, and it is a business place, and the happenings there deserve to be mentioned, but we can not print what is going on in that thriving town unless some one who lives there, who is directly interested, takes it upon him or herself to tell us about it.

The News is not taking in part in the Republican primary which will be held on September 15. Correspondents who favor Mr. Powers and those who favor Mr. Edwards are weekly sending in letters favorable to their respective candidates, but their expressions are not from the letters for the reason, as above stated, we are taking no part in the contest.

Columbia will be in darkness for about ten nights. The electric light plant is being removed to the location recently purchased by the proprietors. New machinery and the power much greater.

The office that got out the Russell Springs Fair catalogue failed to attach its imprint. However, we take it that the job was done by the Casey County News.

Picnic at Griffin Springs.

Quite a number from here composed a very enjoyable picnic party at Griffin Springs last Thursday.

They drove over early in the morning conveying a very delightful lunch, and returned late in the afternoon. The hotel was opened to the public last week and the grounds were in fine condition. Fishing, rowing and tennis playing were very much in order and every member of the party voted it a most pleasant outing.

The party was composed of the following: Mesdames W. E. Myers, W. K. Azbill, M. J. Blakeman, Fred Myers and Jo Coffey, Jr. Misses Myrtle Myers, Elma Page, Lena Patterson, Vic Hughes, May Moffett, Madge Rosefeldt, Edna Lewis, Mabel Atkins, Maja Budalie, Katie Murrell, Ruth Page, Julia Blakeman and Amelia Damron. Mr. Fred Myers and Master Robert Blakeman.

Miss Jennie McFarland and Miss Frances Jones, were expected to be members of the party, but they were necessarily detained at home.

Mr. John Bell lost his watch one day last week, but recovered it very nicely. His watch was in his vest pocket and the vest hanging in his porch. A very small colored boy called at his house and asked for some onions; Mr. Bell went out to get them and in his absence the boy slipped the watch. It was not missed until night, and Mr. Bell forgetting the negro boy, thought one of his sons had taken it to use during the day, but when they returned home, stating that they knew nothing about it, he was surprised. After he had retired for the night the visit of the colored boy occurred to him, and when morning came he saw the lad's mother and the watch came up. When the boy was approached he said: "Well, I'm it hanging there." "I know you did," said Mr. Bell. In a very short time the boy left the house, returning with the watch.

ADAIR CIRCUIT COURT.

L. T. Murrell assigned? P. H. L. T. Bradshaw & Co., v. Notice.

L. T. Bradshaw & Co., Deft. All persons, firms and corporations having claims against the estate of L. T. Bradshaw & Co., assigned, are hereby notified that I will on the 1st day of August 1910, to 1st day of September of the same year to receive, bear proof on and audit claim against the estate of L. T. Bradshaw & Co., assigned, and all persons, firms and corporations holding claims against said estate are notified to have same properly proven as required by law, and file same with me between the said dates.

Done by order of court at its May Term, 1910 referring said case to me as Master Commissioner.

W. A. Coffey, Master Com. A. C. C.

Mr. Frank H. Hill, who has been with the Monticello Banking Co., as bookkeeper and assistant cashier for the past several years has resigned, and John C. Phillips has been bookkeeper for G. M. Hendrick for the past few years has succeeded him. Mr. Hill has been a splendid official and will be greatly missed. Mr. Phillips, who succeeds him, is an experienced banker, bookkeeper, having served for some years as bookkeeper in a Chattanooga Tennessee bank—Monticello Outlook.

County Sunday School Convention.

The Adair County Sunday School Convention was held at the Fair grounds Saturday, July 23. The attendance was fair, the day ideal, the program good and the dinner excellent. Everybody present seemed to enjoy the day as it had the aspect of a semi-picnic occasion. The program, as it appeared in The News, was carried out, except that a number of the participants were absent. This was notably true of the lay speakers, the preachers all being present. The speeches were all good and enthusiastically delivered. In the absence of the regular chairman, Mr. F. R. Winfrey, Gov. Hindman was chosen to preside, and after his own admirable fashion, kept the interest of the convention from flagging until the benediction was rendered.

The Rev. Z. T. Williams was elected president for the ensuing year, while Mr. J. W. Turner was re-elected Secretary. It was ordered that the president and secretary should appoint a representative from each magisterial district of the county to act in the capacity of Vice Presidents. If all signs do not fall there will be a very, very largely attended convention in 1911.

The School Per Capita.

In spite of an increase in the number of school children in Kentucky as compared with last year, the school per capita of the State has been fixed at $4 the same as last year, which was the highest ever known. Examination of the school census for 1910, just completed shows that the number of negro school children in the State has remained about the same, there being only 4 more negroes in the State, while the whites showed a gain of 4,452. The statistics further show that the number of negroes in the rural school has increased while the gain has been in the city schools, showing that the negroes are going to the cities.

Morrison & Co., have a lot of good dressed lumber which they will sell below the market price for the next thirty days. 35-4t

Mrs. Tina Combest, who was a highly respected lady of Phil. Casey county, died last Saturday. The funeral was held Sunday, a large circle of friends and relatives being present. She was 85 years old and was a victim of typhoid fever. Before her marriage she was a Miss Carson, a sister to the widow of the late Pierce Combest.

For Sale.

Two s cond-hand two-horse wagon, and one horse wagon. All in good repair. Parson Bros. 37-3t

There are four Mormon ministers in our midst. They are canvassing the county, preaching and distributing tracts of their religious faith. A few years ago they had a Church in Metcalfe county, and we understand there is an organization at this time in Casey county.

Arthur Taylor, who was the colored driver for Coffey Bros., this place, several years, died in the hospital at Louisville last Friday morning. He underwent an operation, terminating in his death. The remains were interred in Green county, near his home.

Blackberries wanted at the Lindsey-Wilson. Bring Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. 37-3t

Mr. W. E. Bradshaw has sold his residence near the Graded School building to Mr. John N. Conover, consideration, $1,500 as agreed to this office. Mr. Bradshaw will give possession in the early fall.

Carpenters are moving right along with Mr. Geo. T. Flowers, Jr., residence. If weather does not interfere with the workmen, it is predicted that it will be completed, that is the carpenter's work, by the 20th of August.

The Bank of Columbia building and Mr. W. L. Walker's store house is being handsomely painted by Waddie & Gilbert, the improvement adding much to the appearance of the two buildings.

Miss Louise Monroe, of Shepherdsville, who is visiting Miss Rntb Paull, rendered a solo very beautifully at the Christian Church last Sunday night. Eld. M. B. Gabbert filled the pulpit for the pastor, delivering a very good sermon.

The vacant lot between the Paull Drug Co., and W. H. Wilson's store, was recently purchased by Frank Sinclair, consideration $900. We understand that the purchaser will erect a brick business house on it.

It is about seven weeks until the Republican Congressional primary. Those who will take part say that the canvass has not got warm yet, but there will be hot times after a bit.

The Institute.

During the first week of August Prof. J. R. Alexander will conduct the Adair County Institute. Prof. Alexander will be assisted by the last two days of institute by Prof. W. J. Craig; both of these men are members of that very strong faculty of the Western State Normal School at Bowling Green, and rank among the best instructors in the State.

The Institute is not only for the teachers, it is the means by which we must reach every girl and boy in the rural schools. Every body can carry the message to these children and help to drive away the awful cloud of illiteracy that is casting such a gloom over this great country of ours. Come and hear what these great men have to say for our children and help our common country.

Every day will be parent's and children's day, in fact every day will be everybody's day. Trustees especially requested to come. Come, let's have a great institute.

The Institute will be organized at the Lindsey-Wilson Monday on account of a political speaking at the courthouse. Tuesday morning the exercises will be resumed at the Court-house. Pearl Hindman

Tobacco Growers Meeting.

J. Tandy Ellis, one of the war horses in the tobacco movement, will speak to the farmers of this county, at the court-house, next Monday at 10 a. m. All farmers are urged to attend this speaking. J. E. Johnston, C. B. T. S. Adair County.

Go'den Tide.

Washington, July 10.—The belief is expressed by the Treasury officials that the import movement of gold from Europe will approximate $40,000,000 by the Christmas season. During the last fiscal year the United States was drained of coin and bullion to the extent of more than $50,000,000. It was thought by the Government experts that the homeward flow of gold would not begin so early, but that it would follow ordinary trade conditions later in the season.

It has been the observation of the Treasury experts that foreign continental banks gradually have been aiming to strengthen their gold reserves which probably accounts for the inquiries for the precious metal at London. A great deal of the gold that went out of the country was due to natural trade operations. Then a large amount was shipped to the Argentine Republic. That country negotiated a large loan in London some time ago and much of the gold coin was withdrawn from New York because the foreign houses making the loan could secure better terms there.

Dont's For Churchmen.

Don't forget that pain is often but the dregs of pleasure.

Don't fail to note that a pious fraud is sin's best friend.

Don't mix your ideas on duties with notions on revenue.

Don't pray for a harvest of love when you have planted no seeds of kindness.

Don't expect ever to be worth counting if you cannot sometimes forget to count yourself.

Don't forget that saintliness and sanity are both a happy balance between self and society.

Don't overlook the fact that in retired places of helpfulness are found the door to heaven.

Don't fail to learn that nothing will help you more than helping a man when you do not want to.

Don't make foolish estimate of yourself if you would avoid the greatest difficulty in winning the esteem of others.

Don't fail to observe that the man who wears his religion on his sleeve usually makes it merely a part of his cloak.

The Presse Responsible.

The newspapers of the country are largely responsible for the interest manifested in prize fighting and for the financial success attending these brutal and debasing contests. Before the fight between Johnson and Jeffries the daily newspapers were filled with pictures of the pugilists, their careers, their fighting qualities and everything else that ingenuous reporters could think up to excite public interest. The fact that nearly half of the population of the country was interested in the outcome of the fistic battle at Reno tells a wonderful story of the influence of the press, but at the same time it shows the culpability of the press in catering to a depraved taste of a small per cent of its interest in people who would never have given the matter a thought, but for what they read about in the paper. The country has not been injured half as much by the fight as it has been by publication of all its details. If the newspapers would mould public opinion on things which elevate society instead of catering to those things which debase and lower it, it is hard to estimate the value it would do society. Next to encouraging crime or glossing over wrong doing about the worst thing the newspapers do is to stimulate and create an interest in prize fighting. It is as low and depraving in its nature and effects as bull fighting in Mexico or the gladiatorial arena in ancient Rome.—E. Town News.

It is a Mistake.

Many have the idea that anything will sell if advertised strong enough. This is a great mistake. True, a few sales might be made by advertising an absolutely worthless article but it is only the article that is bought again and again that pays. An example of the big success of a worthy article is the enormous sale that has grown up for Cascarets Candy Cathartic. This wonderful record is the result of great merit successfully made known through persistent advertising and the mouth-to-mouth recommendation given Cascarets by its friends and users.

Like all great successes, trade pirates prey on the unsuspecting public, by marketing fake tablets similar in appearance to Cascarets. Care should always be exercised in purchasing well advertised goods, especially an article that has a national sale like Cascarets. Do not allow a substitute to be palmed off on you.

Summary of July Crop Report.

The general average condition of crop growth in the United States on July 1st, 1910, was about 51 per cent. lower than on July 1st, 1909, 34 per cent. lower than July 1st, 1908, and 34 per cent. lower than the ten-year average condition on July 1st. In the New England States conditions are 34 per cent. better than on July 1st, a year ago and 24 above the ten-year average, in the North Central States, East of the Mississippi River, conditions are 74 per cent. lower than a year ago and 4 per cent. below the average; in the North Central States West of the Mississippi River, 15 per cent. lower than a year ago and 12 1/2 per cent below the average; in the far Western States, 31 per cent. below a year ago and 4 1/2 per cent below the average.

The poultry business is like any other business on the farm. The dairyman will not select a beef breed, the cattle feeder will not select a dairy steer, the wool grower wants a distinctively wool producing sheep, and we may add that the poultry breeder who would make his business pay as well as it should will select the breed with the peculiar qualities that are desirable for his purpose and he will want those capable of transmitting such characteristics as will be desirable. Individual qualities will count for a great deal in making a selection. A lot of diseased, aged and poorly kept, half-starved hens will not transmit their best qualities even though purebred. They want to be vigorous, robust, healthy and young, and typical of the breed they represent.

An Ear for the Falls.

It was Chief Joseph, of the Nez Perce tribe of Indians, who remarked that whenever he was gliding gently with the current in his canoe he always kept listening for the falls.

It was wise in the red man, and it is a very safe practice for the members of the other races to observe, and it is applicable to many situations in life.

For two years in the three great States of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky the Democrats have been gliding with a current that seemed to be all in their favor, and in each State the party leaders and the faithful, loyal and everhopeful rank and file of the party have been doing their level best to strengthen their organizations preparatory to state and national victory.

A victory in Indiana would mean much not only to the Democrats in Indiana, but to the Democratic party of the Union. A victory in Kentucky this year could not fail to have favorable effect in the campaign of 1912.

A victory in Ohio this year for the Democrats would almost certainly forecast a national triumph in the next Presidential election.

The Democrats of these three important States have been mutually helpful to each other, and with the factional State and national disturbances in the Republican ranks, the party in each State has been elated with the prospect of victory.

Victory would mean control of the States in every branch, and control of many counties now in possession of the Republicans.

Victory would mean political honor and public preferment to thousands of Democrats who have been barred from positions by Republican majorities for nearly a generation.

Victory in these three States this year might mean a Democratic House of Representatives in the next Congress, probably a Democratic President in 1913, with Democrats controlling the National Administration and all that such control implies.

The Democrats of the entire country have had for two years past their hopes fixed upon the results of these States this year. But few have been listening for the falls; still fewer have been expecting the rocks and the rapids to endanger Democratic success and threaten Democratic safety.

Nevertheless there have been eddies in the current recently that point to certain danger. They have not been due to natural obstructions in the stream of affairs, but rather to artificially created ones. As warnings, however, they are as valuable to the Democratic pilots as the thundering of the cataraict itself. The party in each state is in the hands of capable helmsmen, who will do well to follow their own charts and lights rather than to trust to the uncertain and perilous guidance of those not familiar with the waters.

July Housekeeper.

It is still a difficult thing in the country to get herbs in winter, so dry your own sweet herbs—savory, marjoram, thyme, sage and mint. Hang them in paper bags to dry.

Put up some cans of mint sauce for next spring.

If you do not raise your own fruits and vegetables engage them for the season. It is often hard to get all the fresh things one wants unless one has an arrangement with some farmer in the neighborhood.

Order your crab apples for apple jelly early—likewise your grapes.

Try canning beets, peas, beans and sweet corn. Such home-canned vegetables are better than the goods to be bought in the market.

Don't can tomatoes until the last of the month, when they begin to be abundant and cheap.

A woman who does not have a gas range need not make herself miserable by working over a hot stove in the kitchen when boiling preserves. Set a charcoal stove out under the trees in the yard and boil the preserves there. An old stove could be used in the same way, although it is not so satisfactory.

The best thing for the people of both white and colored races is to forget that the world ever contained such characters as Jeffries and Johnson. The negro race hasn't anything to gain by worshipping Jack Johnson, but it will make a great deal of headway if it will consider the words of wisdom from Booker T. Washington, its real leader, who endeavors to teach them the dignity of honest labor. As for the white man who feels that the superiority of his race depends on a broken-down sport using his fists on a black man with whom he makes himself equal socially and otherwise, we haven't any time to waste words of sympathy. This whole Jeffries-Johnson business has been disgusting from the time they began talking about each other, and the one good and wholesome result of the fight will be, we believe, the putting of an end to such nauseating gabfests and exhibitions of mere brute strength.—Todd County Times.

$200,000 Shy.

Frankfort, Ky., July 8.—Instead of being much larger than for the previous year, as had been expected by everybody, the receipts of the State, from all sources, for the fiscal year ending on June 30, 1910, were about $181,000 less than the receipts for the fiscal year ending on June 30, 1909. This surprising condition was noted when the totals in all departments were added up in the office of Capt. Ed Farley, State Treasurer. The receipts for the year 1909 were $6,838,680.09 while for 1910 the receipts were $6,657,597.63.

This is accounted for in part by the Auditor's office by the statement that there is yet uncollected as taxes on miscellaneous corporations about $50,000, which should be credited to 1910 and that many of the banks are also delinquent. Then, they say, in 1909 the collection of $100,000 from the Southern Pacific railroad swelled the total collections for that year beyond the normal.

Home-dried peaches and evaporated apples are delicacies that many people do not have. Those who have fruits now have good weather for this work and will find it a profitable way to save fruits for winter. Tell your friends how you dry fruits.

Sunflower Philosophy.

The postal savings bank, like other banks, won't save your money, unless you help it.

There's something new a gentleman can do for a lady; crank her automobile for her.

It is possible to have a majority, but no candidate ever had the liars unanimously on his side. When a man begins to dress for comfort rather than looks he is either old or married, or both.

No one but a policeman should ever butt into a family row, and he is apt to get the worst of it.

How is a 'rippling laugh,' which the magazine writer tell about, to be distinguished from other forms of giggling?

Maybe the world is growing better; we do not see as many young girls on the street carrying music rolls as we formerly did.

More than half the people have nothing to do but notice things, so don't imagine you can cut up without being talked about.—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

The quicker we get our poultry products to market, the more profit to us. Personally, we may think it a waste to kill a chick that weighs between one and two pounds, but if we can get the same price for the young chick that it will bring it twice the age, by all means let the other fellow have what he is willing to pay for. Cull the young stock of closely as possible and as early as possible. If there is one point which you will not tolerate in the poultry yard, i. e., green eyes in bay-eyed varieties, of feathers on the legs of smooth legged varieties, get rid of them as soon as the price will warrant either selling or eating. Such faults do not lessen with age, and the flock as a whole looks better without such birds.

As to the apple rust, Professor Surface says that it is now too late to cure trees which are damaged, but we can prevent the spread of this disease by spraying with Bordeaux mixture. Use three pounds of bluestone and four of lime in fifty gallons of water. The germs of this disease live part of the year on red cedar trees, and, therefore, the destruction of the red cedar trees near the orchard is one of the means of getting rid of the rust. One of its necessary forms of existence is in the red cedar "apple," as it is called, which is the black knot often to be seen on the branches of this tree. If there were no red cedar trees for carrying this necessary stage, there would be no disease of this kind.

Basil.

The school at this place will begin the 11th, taught by Mrs. Hallie Pickett. This is her third term and we hope will be one of the most successful.

Miss Montra Compton has been dangerously ill for sometime and seems to get no better.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Compton and little son Dewy, were visiting at Bridgeport Saturday.

Mr. G. P. Smythe of Columbia, was at this place recently investigating some business matters for Aunt Delilah Coomer.

Mr. Tom Moss and family of Weed, visited at Niece Moss' last Saturday night.

C. P. Coomer, wife and little daughter Josie, attended preaching at Bridgeport the 3rd Sunday ult.

Several from this place attended the speaking at Gradyville Thursday. All seemed to be much pleased with Mr. Powers.

On the 22 of June the children and several friends of Mrs. Jack Coomer met at her home and gave her a surprise birthday dinner. She received several useful presents and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Quite a large crowd attended the Children's day at this place the first Sunday in this month. Good order prevailed and all seemed to enjoy the day very much.

On the 9th, of July the neighbors and friends gave Mrs. L. F. Payne a surprise birthday dinner. As the guests first began to arrive it seemed that sister Payne could hardly understand their mission, but as they kept coming with well filled baskets her doubts soon vanished and she gave all a hearty welcome. At the noon hour the table was spread with many different luxuries too numerous to mention and after singing and prayer the guests partook of the bountiful repast. The afternoon was spent in singing and praying and as the crowd left for their respective homes each one felt they had been benefited by spending a day at the parsonage on the hill.

The family washings at the Columbia Steam Laundry is under my supervision and I see that it is done right. The price for such work is 7 cents per pound, but must include heavy as well as light work. We can not do all light work at this price. Also washings must be 5 pounds or over.

37-31 Mrs. T. G. Raaser.

Provide Shade.

Provide good shade, housing the stock during the day if necessary in darkened stable through which fresh air passes and in which stock will be less annoyed by flies and can be conveniently fed some grain and dry roughage. No one would allow his animals to stand out doors in winter to starve and freeze to death and no sooner should one allow them to stand out in summer to starve and to burn to death.

Supply plenty of pure, fresh water and the best feed available. In the meantime seed fields to the crops suggested above for late feed.

Too many farmers in their hay harvest act as if the only consideration was to fill the barn with a lot of stuff at the least expensive labor. Because it will dry out, cure more quickly, they let the field stand till it has lost half its feeding value. Then they rob it of another portion by hasty drying in the hot sun. They haul it to the barn and next winter try to make up in grain what they lost in bad handling of the hay. They would act more wisely, perhaps, if they better understood all that is involved in this problem.

THE ADAIR COUNTY NEWS.

Published Every Wednesday

BY THE

Adair County News Company.

(INCORPORATED)

CHAS. S. HARRIS EDITOR.

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interest of the City of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Post-office as second class mail matter.

WED. JULY 27, 1910.

Fulton, Ky., went dry last Thursday by a majority of seventeen; Carrollton voted the same day and went wet by a majority of 34.

Colquit, the anti Prohibitionist, was nominated for Governor in Texas by a plurality of 60,000. The proposition to submit a prohibition amendment to the constitution of the State, carried by 20,000.

A Democratic Congressional convention will be held in the Ninth district at Carlisle, to-day. There are four candidates, W. J. Field, E. H. Hager, Mordecai Williams and Charles Matthews. Fields leads with fifty votes. Fifty-six votes nominates.

The loss sustained by the Fidelity Trust Company of Louisville, by reason of false entries made by August Repke, the cashier, who is now in jail, will be little the rise of $1,100,000. The stock has been increased by the stockholders to meet all losses.

Hon. J. B. Bennett has been renominated by the Republicans to represent the Ninth Kentucky district in Congress. The district is close and the Democrats think they can win it this year. At the last Congressional election Mr. Bennett got in by a very small margin.

The story from Cincinnati about a married daughter of the late Col. D. G. Colson becoming insane on the streets while being conveyed to a sanitarium, was all a fake. Colson was married in 1900, and had he become the father of a daughter she could only be about nine years old, but the fact is, he had no daughter.

Ira G. Rawn, who was President of the Monon system of railroads, was shot and killed by a burglar, who had perfected an entrance to Mr. Rawn's residence, in a suburb town of Chicago, Ill., last Wednesday morning. It is also believed that the victim shot and wounded the burglar.

The insurgents are evidently going to break ice in the next Presidential contest. Representative Fowler, of New Jersey, in a speech at Patterson, his State, last Thursday, said, that the fate of the country depends upon them. He classed Mr. Roosevelt as the first great Twentieth century Insurgent protesting against legalized wrongs.

George Bohon, president of the Mercer National Bank at Harrodsburg, Ky., and administrator of the estate of Carl Etherington, the anti-saloon detective lynched at Newark, O., July 8, has made formal demand on the Licking county authorities at Newark for the $5,000 damages authorized by the State to be paid by the county to the estate of persons lynched. Bohon stated that he would bring suit in the Federal Court for $40,000 damages against former Sheriff Linke and his bondsmen.

Judge Roscoe Tarter, of Somerset, spoke in the interest of Hon. D. C. Edwards at the courthouse last Wednesday night. He was introduced by Judge H. C. Baker, who took an occasion to pay Mr. Edwards a high compliment, urging the Republicans of this county to support him in the primary. Judge Tarter spoke for about one hour. He took up Mr. Edwards record in Congress and compared it with the records of former Congressman, showing that he had been an industrious member since first elected. He did not vilify Mr. Edwards' opponent, and his speech might be named as a gentlemanly presentation of the issues between the two candidates.

In another column will be found a communication from Congressman Edwards in which represents a letter from the engineer in charge of The Cumberland river improvements. It is a clear cut fact that the improvement is badly needed and it is also a fact that the information asked for should be forth coming. The people of this section should not be slothful in this matter, but do all they can to keep the good work going. The improvement of The Cumberland is of inestimable value to this part of the State and the immense timber, mineral and agricultural products within easy reach of it should stimulate the National government to keep the work going until navigable water is obtained from Nashville to Burnside. To accomplish this is one of the great tasks presented to the Congressman of this district and the people should give all the assistance possible.

In every town and village in every county in Tennessee from Johnson on the east boundary to Shelby on the Mississippi River, the State's serious political situation has aroused the most intense feeling. "Regular" Democrats and "Insurgent" Democrats and Republicans are lining up their forces for the struggle which comes in August when the State judiciary and county elections are held. Up to the present time no candidate has been announced against Gov. Malcolm R. Patterson, either by the "Insurgent" Democrats or the Republican forces, nor is there any likely to be named by the latter party until after the August election. Over in East Tennessee, the Republican strong hold, several prospective candidates have been discussed, but no move has been made to place one actually in the field, and Gov. Patterson is now devoting his campaign speeches primarily to the support of the judiciary candidates nominated at the primary held in June. A prominent citizen of Nashville was here the first of the week, a Democrat who supported Patterson in his first race for Governor, but who opposes him now. He stated to The News that there was not a doubt but Patterson would be defeated. The killing of Carmack and the pardoning of Cooper, he said, would for all time shelve the present governor Tennessee.

Dirigo.

Since last we wrote to the News the death angel has visited our little town again, and this time claimed for his victim Rufus, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Campbell. He was about eight years old and was a very bright little fellow. He was sick only a few days and in that time suffered so much. But then we know there is one who said "Suffer little children to come unto me," and with whom there is no more pain nor sorrow. To the bereaved parents I would say, weep not for we know that little Rufus is far better off than we; prepare to meet him, and once there, we will know no more sad partings.

Miss Polley Harvey, Gradyville, spent last Sunday night with her mother at this place.

Landy Stotts sold a yoke of work oxen to J. G. Campbell for seventy-five dollars.

Mrs. Mariam Norris is very sick at this writing.

Mose Wooten and family spent several days last week with Mrs. Wootens parents at Bliss.

The new road down Harrodsfork is being opened up this week. When this is completed we will then have the best road in this part of the country.

A mad dog produced considerable excitement in this neighborhood one day last week. Mrs. Z. W. Scott was out some distance from her home when she saw the dog have a fit and then come towards her. No other means of escape being apparent she sought the friendly protection of a tree; she climbed beyond the reach of the dog and says that she would have gone higher had it been necessary. She thus occupied her perch on the limb until she thought that the dog was entirely gone, when she descended and started for home. She had nearly reached the house when her daughter happened to see the dog coming again and hollowed to her; she quickened her pace and reached the house just in time to prevent being bitten. The dog then left; it was seen at W. J. Beans a short time after this and then disappeared and has not been seen or heard of since. Whence it cometh and whither it goeth no one knows. If it bit any dog or anything else in this neighborhood it is not known.

Mrs. J. W. McClister is visiting her parents for a few days.

Columbus Wagons

If you want a good, light running farm wagon, let us sell you a Columbus.

We have one here that we will gladly show you. The light running feature of the Columbus is one of its excellent points.

You know that horseflesh costs money.

A Columbus wagon is so light running that this feature is favorably commented upon everywhere.

The wheels, the gears, and boxes are made of good material and properly ironed.

This excellent construction enables them to withstand the severe usage encountered on the farm.

Columbus wagons are so well built, in fact, that after years of service a farmer still has good words for his Columbus wagon.

Call on us at once.

If you are not in need of a wagon at present, it will pay you to investigate the Columbus and be ready when the time comes.

Two certain tracts of land which lie together and form one tract and on the waters of Sulphur Fork, of Russell creek bounded and described as follows viz:—beginning at two poplars and a black oak supposed to be in a survey patented to H. H. Long, thence north 62 east 214 poles to two poplars and two black oaks, thence N 68, W 27 poles to a poplar, thence N 86, W 238 poles to a stake passing a poplar and Black Gum at 220 poles marked as corner trees, thence S 23, E 147 poles, leaving a marked line at 5 poles to the left hand to the beginning excluding a boundary supposed to contain 13 acres where the above boundary line and the survey of H. H. Long. The other tract is a portion of of a tract sold by Tim Cravens to Wm. Burton and begins at the southwest corner of the above described survey and runs straight with the west line of same to the Somerset road thence with the meanders of said road until it intersects the east line of Cravens survey thence back to a gum corner with said line in the south line of Grimes survey.

For the purchase price, the purchaser with approved surety or securities, must execute Bond, bearing legal interest from day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.
W. A. Coffey, Master Commissioner.

To My Old Friends.

Cork, Ky., July 22, 1910.

Editor News:

If you will kindly allow me I will speak to some of my old friends, kinfolks and acquaintances through your paper, as I am sure it goes to many of their homes.

Aunt Nancy Webb, my mother's sister, How are you? And Ethel, and Myrt and the children? We have looked for you to visit us all summer. Pa is very feeble and would rather see you than any one living. Judge D. G. Shepherd, here is my hand! I remember all your kindness to my father, the assistance you rendered him every way, and I scan the paper eagerly for every mention of your name. Tom Frankie; I wonder if 20 years have changed you very much? O Tom! How I should like to hear you and S. G. Tarter sing, "The Armor-Bearer." Tell Elzie, Frank, John and Melvin "howdy" for me. Also Martha, Lula and Laura. I notice Uncle Griffin Wheat's widow is still living. Levi, Tom, Henderson, Vernon, a hearty handshake to you all. Do you remember the "pink-a-winkles" in Williams creek? I wish to state in this connection that "I never used tobacco at all, but feel best with a little in my pocket." If you don't remember about this get Griff White or Tom Shepherd to tell you. Uncle Steve Calhoun and his boys, George and Curt, my old playmates, I should enjoy meeting you all so much. I know every hill, hollow and by-path from the old white school house to Webb's X Roads, and as old memories come crowding up, I feel how small a space a letter contains for speaking to you all.

Uncle Thompson Abrel and Aunt Martha, I hope you are both alive and well. And Bramlett! I heard he was a preacher, and Jo and Elzie Silas, I hope you have not entirely forgotten me. Jim Bricken, my dear old friend how are you? and "Eckie" and Johnnie? But softly! a word or two before passing him, I merely wish to state that big feet or little feet, going out at one door or both doors, white rag on his head or off his head, I love John Bricken. Say, Jim, was the little girl that was murdered Nannie's daughter? John how would you like a splash in the Baptizing hole?

John A. Webb, my fathers old friend and mine. How I should like to see your eyes flash with intellectual fire, and feel the hearty, healthy grip of your hand in real good fellowship. Do you remember how you used to ride 3 or 4 miles to talk with my father, he and you sitting up sometimes till nearly midnight discussing Astronomy, philosophy, Literature, History etc? You also lent me many books that helped me. My kindest greeting to all your folks, especially your mother, if she is still alive.

Walker Cravens and Robert, own cousins of my mother, I never hear anything of you nor Ira. Walker ask Pinie if she can make as good biscuits as she used to? Cousin Ida, do you still live on grand fathers old place?

Same old house? Its a long hill to carry water up isn't it? I understand Russell Springs is a considerable town now. Twenty-five years ago, when I saw it last, it consisted of 11 small log cabins daubed with blue clay, built to accommodate health seekers.

Eb Robertson, are they white or red sweet potatoes by J—s? Do you still run the water-mill down on the creek? Is Jimmie married yet?

Marion Harmon, I see you are in the old country on a visit. You will remember the boy you helped so much and in so many ways when he was struggling for an education in the old Christian college. I had lost track of you entirely until last week. Can't you stop and see me on your way back to Jackson?

I live on the Horse Cave road, four miles north of Edmontown. I see something from Ella, where is that? About Laurence Bricken's I guess.

He does not remember me, but I wish to know if his mother, Emily, is living, and where?

A word or two to my friends concerning myself and family. I have seven children, the oldest one married. Sister Bettie and my mother are dead. Jennie lives in Texas. Jim and I own adjoining farms. Luther's farm is close to ours. Mollie's husband, W. H. Stephens, is postmaster at Sun, Ky. Jim's oldest daughter married S. M. Sullivan, owner of the store and mills at Cork, Ky. Mollie's husband is also a merchant. Thomas is still unmarried. I hope in response to this to get at least fifty personal letters.

Address, George Acree, Cork, Ky.

Women Suffer

much needless pain when they delay using Cardui for their female troubles. Cardui has been found to relieve headache, backache, pain in the side and dizziness, arising from deranged organs. It does more than relieve,—it used persistently,—many have written to say that it cured them.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

J 37

Mrs. Marcell Johnson, Tampa, Fla., writes: "Cardui cured me after doctors and everything else had failed. I had been suffering with many spells ever since I was 16 years old. One day I decided to take Cardui. I have now taken 5 bottles and I can say that it has cured me. I advise all suffering women to give Cardui a long and fair trial."

Mrs. Johnson suffered years. Have you? Do you wish to? But why suffer at all? Take Cardui. Give it a fair trial.

Old Shoes.

How much a man is like old shoes! For instance: Both a soul may lose, Both had been tanned; both are made tight. By cobblers; both get left and right, both need a mate to be complete, and both are made to go on feet.

They both need healing, oft are soled, and both in time turn all to mould. With shoes the last is first; with men the first shall be the last; and when the shoes wear out they're mended new; When men wear out they're mended too. They both are trod upon, and both will tread on others, nothing loath. Both have their ties and both incline, when polished in the world to shine; And both peg out—and would you choose to be a man or be his shoes?—Chicago Tribune.

Why We Celebrate the 4th of July.

Why do we celebrate the 4th of July? Because one hundred and thirty-four years ago The Declaration of Independence was passed, which declared our independence for Great Britain.

But did this close the dispute? No! For six long years of war, one having already been fought, our fore-fathers were struggling against her Mother Country, who wanted to keep us dependent and under her control.

Just think of England declaring we didn't even have the right to make a horse shoe nail without her consent, and the colonies were taxed to pay the expenses of recent wars and yet not represented, just slaves you see and what American can bear this?

Yes, the Revolutionary war was to be the decision, although there were only thirteen colonies, yet I imagine the blood of freedom was running through every citizen's veins, to put their shoulder to the wheel and fight till death or freedom.

Some may think it was wrong to make war against England, but how else was it to be decided? And I firmly believe we were backed by the great God of Heaven, for often before entering a battle the commander would have prayer with his soldiers.

During the winter of 1777-78 George Washington the great American commander was quartered at the house of Isaac Potts. One day Mr. Potts was on his way to a creek near by, he heard a voice of prayer, and on approaching he discovered General Washington on his knees, his cheeks wet with tears, on returning to the house and relating the incident to his wife he said, "If there's any one to whom the Lord will listen, it is George Washington, and under such a commander our Independence is sure."

We sometimes hear people speak of their hard-ships of today but they are trifles compared to the one the soldiers had to contend with during this war, during the winter of 1777-78 was said to be the hardest of the war. The men were encamped in cold comfortless huts, with very little food or clothing and often barefooted left their tracks in blood on the frozen ground. Sickness followed with no comforts or medicine, death was the only relief, yet amid all this the fires of patriotism burned brightly.

Washington still felt his cause was just and inspired his soldiers by his faith. Now can't you imagine the joy of every heart when the struggle was all over, and how every one should rejoice today of their freedom. At last on the 19th of October, 1781 the British army surrendered 7,000 men. All the hardships of past were forgotten at the thought that America was free.

Many wept for joy and some were speechless with delight. Congress met early after the decision then marched to the church to return thanks to Almighty God for our independence.

And why should we not today return the same thanks and ever be true to our country, which can boast of being one of the grandest nations on the globe, and its all due to our independence declared one hundred and thirty-four years ago.

Bertha H. Coomer.

Short Half Million.

The work of the experts on the books of the Fidelity Trust Company, Louisville, is still in progress and the men work night and day, almost. There are all kinds of rumors as to the amount of Ropke's shortage, but the consensus of opinion seems to be that the accountants will find that he got away with something near a half million dollars. None of the trust funds have been tampered with, so far as has been discovered, and the stockholders of the Fidelity will have to bear the loss, whatever it is, and not the depositors or those estates are in charge of the company.

A Story of the Day.

In Illinois, near Duquoin, lives a retired farmer, Mr. George G. Harsey. Mr. Harsey is a man who never had much faith in banks. He read now and then of bank defalcations. He did not continue his investigation to find out anything about the effect or methods by which defalcations are made good. He did not stop to consider how small a proportion of the money put in bank for safe-keeping is ever lost. He determined simply because of what he read now and then that he was a better custodian of his money than the doubly locked vaults of any bank. Recently, it is said, that determining to visit some friends in St. Louis, he carried his money with him, carefully concealed in a small sack. It amounted to $3,250. Upon his return home he found that somehow he had separated himself from his mooney, and he could not tell just how or where or when. His money is gone, the robber is unknown, and there is no possibility of recovery. He has been enueated into a better appreciation of the bank, but the lesson cost him $3,250.—Louisville Post.

Binders and Needed Harness.

Horses are placing mankind daily under everlastig obligations to them, says Secretary Pershing, of the South Bend (Ind.) Humane Society, but how cruelly and thoughtlessly are they repaid by those who are most indebted to them. A horse is a noble animal; patient, kind-hearted, self-sacrificing, willing to work till he dies in his tracks, uncomplaining; a lover of kind treatment and who is willing to work a whole lifetime with no other compensation than his bed and board.

Of the many things which make the daily life of a horse miserable, two are blinders and the tight checkrein, the worst parts of a horse's harness. Very many people believe that they are part and parcel of a horse and that he would not be a horse without them.

The majority of horses could readily dispense with blinders, and all could if they had never been invented. Blinders were first used by a nobleman in England to hide a defect on his horse's head, and later they were found excellent locations for the displaying of his coat-of-arms.

A horse's head was never intended for blinders, for his eyes are so set in his head that he can see behind him without turning his head, and, of course, the blinders deprive him of seeing the very things he should see, for his own safety as well as his driver's. A horse's eye is a beautiful object and it is a shame to cover it.

Whenever I see a man driving a horse without blinders I always feel like stopping him and shaking hands with him. A horse's head is the best part of him and should have on it as little harness as possible.

Another instrument of torture to a horse is the tight checkrein. It is responsible for poll-evil, abscesses, sprung knees, paralysis and disorders of the brain and

Gradyville.

George W. Flowers spent a few days in Columbia last week.

We have had plenty of sunshine for the past week.

Brack Cain, of Columbia, spent a few days of last week in this community.

Wheat threshers are running in this community every day and wheat is turning out well.

Mrs. H. A. Walker and daughter, of Columbia, spent a day or so at this place the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Keltner have a daughter who is very sick with fever.

Dr. J. H. Grady, of Columbia, spent one night last week visiting his brother at this place.

Mr. J. H. Turk, of Hiseville, called in to see us on his return from Columbia last Thursday.

We understand the market on new wheat at this place has opened up at 90 cents per bushel.

Judge N. H. Moss and W. M. Wilmore lost two very valuable work mules one day last week.

Judge T. A. Murrell, of Columbia, and Mr. H. A. Moss, of Greensburg, were in our midst one day last week.

Remember that all who are interested in the cemetery at Union are requested to meet there promptly at 10 o'clock on Saturday before the first Sunday in August. Preaching in the afternoon in the grove by Rev. Crawford. Bring your dinner.

Mrs. George Flowers and her daughter, of Columbia, spent last week in our city visiting the family of Mr. C. O. Moss.

The contract for building the bank at this place has been given to Mr. Sims, of Columbia. The work will begin at once and will be pushed to completion.

Mr. Sam Mitchell, a deputy sheriff, of Columbia, was in our town a day or so of last week.

Several from this community attended the funeral of Mr. Allen Vance at East Fork last Wednesday. Mr. Vance was only sick a few days with fever.

Mrs. George H. Nell entertained quite a number of the ladies of this community and town last Thursday. It was an old-time quilting and the day was highly enjoyed by every one present, especially the good dinner that was prepared for the occasion.

Gov. J. R. Hindman, of Columbia, called in to see us last Monday while enroute to his farm. As usual we were all glad to see the Governor as he is one of us. He always has something to talk about that is very interesting. We all collect around to hear him talk of the by-gone days and events of the past.

Mrs. Mary Caldwell, of Columbia, spent a day or so of last week visiting her relatives and friends in this community.

It would just pay any one well to come to this town and take a birds eye view of Uncle Charlie Yates' two peacock colts. They are just simply up-to-date in every respect. They are too fine for country people to own. Some man in New York or Chicago ought to own them. Come and see and convince yourself.

Col. J. N. Coffey, of Columbia, in company with Judge Tarter, of Somerset, arrived in our city in due time to fill the appointment of Hon. D. C. Edwards on last Monday afternoon. The large store building of Keltner Bros. was fairly well filled with both Republicans and Democrats to hear the speaker.

We take it that none of us can call to memory a day that was more pleasantly spent than last Thursday when our old neighbor and friend, H. C. Walker, formerly of this place, but now of Bradfordsville, came in our town. Our town people of once gathered around to shake his hand and hear his voice once more. We all lost sight of our business and sat quietly around to hear him tell of by-gone events. There never was a man lived in this town any more popular with his neighbors than Henry Clay Walker and he is the same to day that he was twenty years ago in appearance. In conversation with Mr. Walker he said himself and family were well pleased with Bradfordsville and that he was enjoying a nice business. He also informed us that they had good churches and preaching every Sunday by able divines of all denominations and that he had never departed from attending Sunday School regularly and he was very favorably surrounded in this one respect as he had the pleasure every Sunday of attending a female Sunday School that was well attended.

Cole Camp.

The farmers were anxious to see the sunny days, so they could lay by their corn. Mr. Jaes said he plowed his corn with two furrows in a row and the moles plowed the middle for him. Who can beat that?

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baker, of Louisville, are visiting Dr. T. T. Baker.

Mr. Elam Cheatham is getting along nicely on his new residence. He will soon have it completed.

Several of the Amandaville folks were shaking hands in Burkesville last Saturday, the waters got so high they had to stay over until Sunday morning.

Mrs. Lydia Thomas who has been confined to her bed for some time, is no better at this writing.

Mr. George Stults is in this neighborhood now working a crew of hands in the stave business.

The Anderson Bros., have been putting the finishing touch on R. O. Cabell's new residence this last week. They are very fine workmen and will go from here at Petersburg, Ill., where they have a job.

Crocus.

Farmers here are fighting hard to rescue their corn crops from the weeds and bushes.

A well is being bored at our schoolhouse. This will be a boom to this district as the school is large and the spring is a long distance from the school house.

Mrs. Thomas Aaron died on the 8th inst., of cancer of the stomach. She had been in very poor health for several years. She leaves an aged husband, four sons and one daughter to mourn her loss, all of her children are married.

Our teachers are located as follows: George Aaron, Irish Bottom; Nell Miller, Barger's Ridge; Eliza Vaughan, Biard's school house; J. V. Dudley is teaching his third term in this district.

Those who heard Judge Tarter's speech at this place, in behalf of Hon. D. C. Edwards' candidacy was very favorably impressed with the honest truthful manner in which he presented the question.

Pickett.

The health of this section is very good at present.

Our school opened up a few days ago with about 40 pupils and Miss Celeste Shirley as teacher.

W. G. Pickett was in Greensburg one day last week on business.

Mrs. Geo. W. Pickett who has been poorly for several months is some better.

Mr. Allen Parson had a good work mule to die one day this week.

G. W. Whitlock and family left a few days ago for Quannah, Texas, to make there future home.

Esq. Geo. W. Pickett was in Columbia a few days ago on business.

W. C. Rodgers has about 30 head of sheep for sale. Anyone in the market for them might do well to see him.

Hogs is very scarce in this part of the country.

People are now ready for a wheat thresher owing to so much rain the wheat is not in very good shape.

We hear some complaint of tobacco frencing.
